A decorative background for the newsletter's main content area. It features a vibrant pink surface scattered with several light pink and white rose petals. A white rectangular card is placed horizontally across the middle. The card has a vertical crease down its center. On the left side of the card, the word "hello" is written in a black, cursive script, flanked by two small red hearts. Below this, the word "FEBRUARY" is printed in a large, bold, black, sans-serif font. The letter "F" is preceded by a black arrow pointing to the left, and the letter "Y" is followed by a black arrow pointing to the right.
